Ready For Students

FILLED WITH THE EMPTY BOXES of newly moved supplies, textbooks and equipment now, this corridor in Escanaba's new Jefferson school will brighten Tuesday with the shining faces of its first students. The new eight-room school was completed this summer and preparations for the opening of school have been underway all week. By Tuesday, though, the boxes will be gone with eager youngsters in their place. (Daily Press photo).

Teacher Strike Looms In U.P. School Districts

By The Associated Press
With 74 school districts still unsettled, marathon weekend bargaining appeared the rule as local school boards and teacher groups tried to arrive at contracts before school starts next week.

The Portage-Ontonagon School District has not yet reached an agreement and teachers there have said if there is no contract they won't work.

Lt. Gov. William Milliken said he is setting up a 24-hour "command post" in Lansing which will operate through the Labor Day weekend.

State mediators encouraged teachers and school boards to continue bargaining through the weekend.

"I am not yet convinced there is a hopeless situation in any unsettled district," Milliken said. "I am convinced that in nearly every district, both boards of education and teacher groups are bargaining in good faith and making every effort to resolve their differences."

In Detroit, representatives of the school board and the Detroit Federation of Teachers met separately Friday with Ronald W. Houghton, a state-appointed fact finder, but little progress was made.

The DFT membership was scheduled to meet Tuesday morning, the day before school is scheduled to start.

Meanwhile, a spokesman for the Michigan Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, said he expected teacher strikes in nine school districts, including Detroit, and Henry Ford Community College, Dearborn, Kellogg Community College, Battle Creek, and Lake Michigan Community College, Benton Harbor.

The Adams Township School District failed to reach a settlement, but teachers had agreed to go to work Sept. 5 anyway. However, teachers in East China Township School District ratified a new contract Friday by a 106-15 vote.

In the Camden-Frontier district south of Hillsdale, the teachers association filed unfair labor practices charges against the school bargaining as contract talks remained unsettled. The district has decided to postpone the opening of school until agreement is reached.

Ilse Koch Dies; Prison Suicide

AICHACH, Germany (AP) — Ilse Koch, once known as the Bitch of Buchenwald for mistreatment of concentration camp inmates, committed suicide in prison early today, an official at the Bavarian Women's Prison said.

He reported Mrs. Koch, 60, hanged herself in her cell and was discovered by a guard who brought her breakfast.

Mrs. Koch had spent 20 years in prison, first under a U. S. war crimes sentence and since 1951 under a German life sentence for instigation of murder and cruelty to concentration camp inmates. She was held in the women's prison in this town near Augsburg.

Steel Makers Boost Prices

NEW YORK (AP) — A price increase in steel bars appeared all but certain to stand today with most of the major producers having joined in the hike despite a Johnson administration plea for restraint.

President Johnson told a Washington news conference Friday that he regretted very much the companies' decision to raise prices but he did not indicate that he planned to do anything about it.

At almost the same time, Bethlehem Steel Corp., No. 2 producer, and Inland Steel Co., No. 4, announced they were raising prices on bars. Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., No. 5, and Armco Steel Corp. and Kaiser Steel Corp. followed suit shortly thereafter.

The price ball was started rolling by Republic Steel Corp., No. 3, on Wednesday. United States Steel Corp., No. 1, joined in the hike Thursday despite criticism of the raise by Gardner Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic

Marshall Takes Oath Of Office

WASHINGTON (AP) — The grandson of a slave has been sworn into office as the nation's first Negro justice of the Supreme Court.

Thurgood Marshall, son of a sleeping car porter and a long-time fighter for equal rights for Negroes, took the "constitutional" oath of office in a quiet, private ceremony Friday.

Officiating at the swearing-in was Justice Hugo L. Black, at 81 the court's oldest member. During the oath-taking he directed Marshall's attention to a section in a Gideon Bible that read: "And so abide faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity."

Black, a former two-term U.S. Senator from Alabama who has served on the court 30 years, once belonged to the Klan. Later, as a lawmaker and justice, he became a staunch defender of civil liberties.

Marshall, 59, said after the ceremony he'll begin work next Tuesday. By taking the oath to support and defend the U.S. Constitution, he is empowered to perform all judicial duties except decide cases.

He is expected to take a public or "judicial" oath—in which he must swear to administer justice to all—when the court reconvenes for its new term Oct. 2.

Advisors. "Steel is our single most important industrial material," Ackley said Thursday. "General stability of industrial prices is difficult to achieve if steel prices are rising."

At his news conference Friday the President was asked his reaction to the price increases in the face of Ackley's urging. Johnson replied: "Mr. Ackley expressed the viewpoint of the administration on that. We regret very much that the companies felt it necessary to take the action they did. We expressed our view as strongly as we could in our recommendations."

The steel firms all blamed rising costs for the increase of $3 a ton or 1.8 per cent. Steel bars are used in a variety of end products from industrial fasteners to railroad car axles.

Strikes Halt Michigan's Copper Mining

BULLETIN
SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz and Commerce Secretary Alexander B. Trowbridge are expected to intercede by next week in the 50-day nationwide copper strike, taking over mediation between unions representing the 42,000 striking copper workers and management.

WHITE PINE (AP)—Two separate strikes have brought copper production to a virtual standstill in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Production ground to a halt at White Pine Copper Co., the area's largest miner and producer of copper, as a result of a strike by 1,850 United Steel Workers.

Meanwhile, Calumet & Hecla Inc. at Calumet today shut down

Price Climbs

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite administration hopes for a quick resumption of copper production, the strike in the industry has gone into its eighth week with no signs of ending.

President Johnson told a news conference Friday he was "hopeful" production would resume, but added that the Administration was not considering using the Taft-Hartley labor law as yet to stop the strike.

Copper prices are expected to continue to rise as long as the strike continues.

its entire Calumet operation in the Keweenaw Peninsula because a majority of the company's 1,210 workers has been honoring picket lines of 27 workers on strike there since Aug. 23.

The strike at White Pine, which came Thursday at midnight after the union turned down the company's latest wage contract offer, has sided 67 per cent of the company's mines and 96 per cent of its smelters, through which mined copper must go.

White Pine unionists described the company's latest contract offer as "inadequate." Neither company nor union officials will discuss details of the offer, nor will the union reveal its wage and fringe benefit demands.

The union rejected Aug. 10 an earlier company offer of nearly 41 cents an hour wage increases over three years.

The union also rejected a proposal by state and federal mediators to extend the present contract 60 days, with new contract wage provisions retroactive between the union and company.

Calumet and Hecla said it has given layoff notices, effective Saturday, to 485 employees in underground mining operations, boosting the number off work to 1,210.

Other workers have been honoring picket lines by 27 laboratories, warehouse, smelter and mill employees since Aug. 23, on strike to obtain an interim contract agreement since their affiliation with the steelworkers union.

The 27 were not members of the union and so not covered by the agreement negotiated with Local 4312 of the Steelworkers.

The National Labor Relations Board had approved their request to seek an interim pact, but C&H officials said that in bargaining Thursday wage hikes averaging 17 cents an hour and other basic benefits offered were rejected by the 27.

Pact Wednesday Or UAW Strike At Ford

Guerrillas Push Viet Terror To Smash Election

SAIGON (AP) — Communist guerrillas made election eve attacks throughout South Vietnam today, including an attempted terror raid into the province capital of Tam Ky where a terrorist carrying 20 pounds of TNT was shot down.

Most of the attacks were small but the over-all death toll mounted sharply.

U.S. sources said 190 civilians have been killed by terrorists in the past week, 426 have been wounded and 237 kidnapped.

The regular war stayed quiet. Most of South Vietnam's servicemen and many Americans were assigned to protect the voters.

The attack on Tam Ky, capital of Quang Tin Province in the politically sensitive northern war zone which has been the main target of pre-election terror, was thrown back with four South Vietnamese killed and six wounded. Simultaneously the Communists mortared a military dependents camp on the outskirts of the town, wounding two people there.

The guerrillas attempted to get into the town about 2 a.m. and sporadic fighting broke out in the almost deserted streets as they were spotted.

Five guerrillas were slain and arms taken from them included the TNT and about a dozen grenades. Military authorities said 14 houses were destroyed by the guerrillas and two vehicles burned.

In Thua Thien Province, about 50 miles to the north, South Vietnamese headquarters announced guerrillas entered a hamlet and abducted 50 people and took the voting cards of many more. This was in addition to the 237 persons which Saigon already had reported kidnapped. Authorities feared that many more people have been taken away and held as hostages to insure their villages boycott the elections—but that these incidents have not been reported.

The capital of Saigon was thick with election posters and extra policemen, some of them protecting the observers here from 24 nations to watch Sunday's voting. American servicemen were ordered to stay off the streets and U.S. civilians were asked to take the same precautions.

State AP Chief's Father Passes

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Funeral services will be held here Saturday for Joseph Clement Brossier, 76, who spent more than 50 years in the newspaper business in Florida.

Survivors include the widow, Mabel Oliver; two sons, Charles B. of Orlando and Clement P. Brossier, Associated Press chief of bureau in Detroit; a daughter, Mrs. J.S. Dion of Goldsboro, N.C.; and a sister, Mrs. J. Hugh Reese of Miami.

Banned Milwaukee March Quelled With Tear Gas

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Police, caught in a barrage of bottles and bricks minutes after cracking down on a forbidden civil rights march Friday night, rushed a Roman Catholic school yard and showered it with tear gas.

The police sweep that sent tear gas filtering into the buildings of St. Boniface parish climaxed a night of racial tension that resulted in 13 injuries and 14 arrests. A spectator collapsed and died of natural causes, authorities said.

Among those arrested was the Rev. James E. Groppi, a white assistant pastor at St. Boniface, a parish in the heart of the inner core, where most of Milwaukee's 86,000 Negroes live. Father Groppi, who led the attempted march from St. Boniface, is adviser to the Milwaukee Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

UNITED AUTO WORKERS President Walter Reuther said Friday, when he announced Ford as the union's prime bargaining target, that if no contract is reached by the deadline the UAW will strike all Ford plants. Viet Vote Mid Terror, Apathy

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam's presidential election campaign ended today in apathy, terrorist raids and reports of a military coup attempt as the Viet Cong offered its own political and economic program for the nation on the eve of Sunday's voting.

Intelligence sources said the possibility of a coup attempt underlay the house arrest of South Vietnamese Col. Pham Van Lieu on charges of working for the election of a civilian candidate. It was not known, they said, if the alleged plot had reached the stage of planning or alliances.

Lieu's seizure and continued terrorist shootings and grenade blasts brought new uneasiness to the election that has been called both a brave venture in democracy and a fraud. Besides a president and vice president, the nation's 5.8 million registered voters will choose a 60-member Senate.

Voting at the 8,808 polling places begins at 7 a.m. Sunday and ends at 4 p.m.

While apathy showed in the turnout of only 3,000 persons for a final public campaign rally in Saigon Friday night, the Communists—banned from running in the election—used Hanoi Radio to beam promises of what will happen if they come to power, including land for the peasants.

The military leaders, Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu, 44, and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, 36, were strong favorites to win the races for president and vice president. None of the 10 civilian tickets appeared able to match the support of the men who have been running the country for two years.

Bridge Hike Is Busy Week Start For Governor

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney begins a strenuous two-month period of what looks like presidential campaigning next week with two trips to the nation's Capital and one to Oregon. Romney, an undeclared seeker of the Republican presidential nomination, plans to speak in Portland, Ore., Thursday at a dinner for GOP legislative candidates.

On Wednesday and Friday, he plans to be in Washington, D.C., Wednesday for a meeting of the National Governors' Conference's subcommittee on federal-state revenue sharing and Friday for a reception hosted by the GOP National Committee from Michigan, John B. Martin.

The governor, as usual, plans to join hikers Monday for the annual five-mile Labor Day stroll across the Mackinac Bridge. He expects to work in Lansing Tuesday and to spend next Saturday at his home in Bloomfield Hills.

Reuther Wants Pact To Set Industry Model

By A.F. MAHAN

DETROIT (AP) — Bargaining for an automotive labor agreement today went into the stretch run as the union pushed towards a contract with the Ford Motor Co. that could be used as a pattern in the rest of the industry.

Less than five days remain before current three-year pacts covering some 650,000 workers at the Big Three—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler—expire at Wednesday midnight.

Negotiations at Ford were to resume at 10 a.m. and at GM and Chrysler an hour later.

Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, led his bargainers into the union's target, Ford, at 9 p.m. but the session ended two hours later with both sides reporting little progress.

Plants in 27 States
Reuther said Friday, when he announced Ford as the target, that if no contract is reached by the deadline the UAW will strike all Ford plants.

Ford employs some 160,000 UAW members at its 45 manufacturing plants, 17 assembly plants and 39 parts depots scattered through 27 states.

Among the top items on what the union calls its "longest and most ambitious list of demands" are a substantial pay boost, some form of guaranteed annual income and equal pay for American and Canadian workers.

The union has rejected the companies' first offers, which included an hourly wage hike of 13 cents to be improved by 2.8 per cent each year.

The average worker now makes about $3.41 in straight time wages, but this figure has been put as high as $4.70 when fringe benefits are included.

Reuther said it was "reasonable to assume" that after reaching an agreement at Ford the union would go to Chrysler and then take on GM, the nation's largest manufacturing firm.

Speculation was high that Reuther, who Thursday claimed that GM was holding Ford and Chrysler as "prisoners" in a conspiracy "to thwart free and independent collective bargaining," would pick the industry bellwether as his target.

But the fiery, red-haired union chief told the union's General Motors council on Friday, his 60th birthday, "We made the decision with our minds, not our hearts."

To prepare for a possible strike the union has called a special national convention Sept. 23 to supplement union strike funds.

The UAW currently has $67 million in its till, which if doled out as strike benefits to workers, would last 18 weeks at Ford, six months at Chrysler, but only about seven weeks at GM. GM employs about 375,000 UAW men, Chrysler some 100,000.

Reuther said that if Ford is struck, "We will ask Chrysler and General Motors to sign an extension of their agreements in the hope that we can minimize the dislocation of the industry."

Reuther said if the union struck Ford there would be no cause for government intervention because the stoppage would in no way endanger national health or safety.

"Nothing will be done to interfere with any critical defense items," Reuther said. "If there are any instances of interference, all the government has to do is tell us and the manpower will be available."

President Johnson told a news conference Friday he hoped there would be no strike in the auto industry because, the President said, any strike costs the economy something.

Forget Parade

DETROIT (AP)—There won't be a Labor Day Parade in Detroit Labor Day. The Wayne County AFL-CIO Council, which usually sponsors a parade, said its plans for this year "fell through." An AFL-CIO spokesman said, "Because of the riots in the city we thought it best just to forget it."

Convict Faces Four Charges

MARQUETTE—Four charges are to be brought against a Marquette state prison convict who was recaptured Thursday night after four days of freedom.

State Police said Wayne R. McCants, 43, was seized two hours after he committed his second armed robbery since fleeing the prison's Mangum farm Sunday night where he worked as a trusty.

Police said McCants allegedly assaulted and held up a 76-year-old man, Albert Fankhauser, Wednesday, and used a club to threaten Omar Beavner, 63, and rob him of $150 in Beavner's cottage Thursday night.

Beavner managed to free himself after being tied up and called State Police. The convict was driving Fankhauser's car which was stolen on Wednesday, police said.

When recaptured by troopers, McCants offered no resistance.

McCants was serving a 2½ to 5 year prison term for attempted burglary in Detroit. He will face new charges of breaking prison, assault, auto theft and armed robbery, according to prison warden Raymond Buchhoe.

Post Office Sets Holiday Hours

Regular holiday schedules will be observed by the Escanaba Post Office on Labor Day, Postmaster James Pryal announced.

There will be no regular window or delivery services Monday. Mail will be picked up from deposit points on holiday schedules, and special delivery will be provided. The post office lobby will be open for access to lock boxes, deposit of mail, and purchase of stamps from machine.

U.P. Generating Sues Marquette On School Tax

By W. H. TRELOAR
Of Panax Newspapers

The Upper Peninsula generating Co. based in Marquette, has instituted suit against the City of Marquette and the Board of Education of the Public Schools of Marquette for recovery of what it alleges to be excess property taxes, and for an injunction to restrain them from further assessing on the basis of previous tax levies.

The suit, filed yesterday in Marquette Circuit Court, is actually against the board of education, but the city has been named because it is the collector of such taxes. Preparatory to suit, the Generating Co. paid its taxes this year under protest.

The valuation of the property of the U.P. Generating Co. for property tax purposes is 24.6 per cent of the total valuation of all such property in the City of Marquette, the company states and in August U.P. Generating paid the city an amount in excess of a half million dollars.

Excess Alleged

The Generating Co. is basing its suit on the premise that the public schools of Marquette, acting under the 1905 act which created the school district, received property taxes in excess of the amount allocated by the Marquette County Tax Allocation Board and in excess of the constitutional limit of 15 mills "set forth in both the 1908 and 1963 state constitutions."

The County Tax Allocation Board set up 8.2 mills for school purposes and in 1967 the tax for school purposes in Marquette was 24.3 mills, more than 50 per cent of the total 46.07 mill package.

Russell Hoyer, president of U.P. Generating Co., said "the company has invested substantially in its property in Marquette, has provided substantial and regular employment, received no business directly from the city and deems its property taxes to be excessive and illegal."

City Owns Utility

The litigation instituted yesterday presents a technical legal question which U.P. Generating feels should be submitted to the courts "to determine whether the present property taxing procedure for the benefit of school operations within the city is illegal and unconstitutional as it affects the company and other taxpayers."

The Marquette Board of Education has been operating under a special charter granted it in 1905 and has taken the position on previous inquiries that its charter does not bind it to the findings of the Tax Allocation Board.

The City of Marquette has just completed its Shiras municipal electric generating plant costing more than $4 million. It supplies most of the city's electric power needs.

Laundry Soap Used To Keep Beaver Away

When beaver rebuilt a dam that John Seppi of Chatham had removed in the Rumely area of Alger County, he decided to try an unusual technique that reportedly has been successfully employed to control beaver in the West.

First tested by Ray Johnson, a rancher near Deer Lodge, Mont., the control measure involves tying half a dozen bars of old-fashioned yellow laundry soap in a burlap sack and hanging it in the water just upstream from where beaver are building their dam. This, according to Johnson, will cause the beaver to abandon their project and move on.

Seppi, who is a trapper instructor for the Michigan Conservation Department, says the method appears to be working at Rumely. Two checks at the site after he had placed sacks of soap upstream from the dam failed to reveal any sign of renewed beaver activity in that area.

After the reflector tape was added to her newly won bicycle by T/Sgt. Billy Bryan, Janie Foote prepares to leave the inspection site. In one morning base police inspected 326 bicycles and found 60 defective. Most common faults were no reflectors, loose fenders and unguarded bike chains. Practically all the bikes had no lights for nighttime use. White reflector tape was put on the front and sides and red reflectors were attached to the rear of all inspected bicycles. (AF Photo)

TV & Radio Shop Opens Tuesday

An electronic equipment and service firm, J&R Radio & TV, will open its new store and service center in the building at 803 Ludington St., formerly used by Vits Restaurant on Tuesday, Sept. 5.

The firm already operates a similar business in Iron Mountain and has in 14½ years become one of the Upper Peninsula's best known electronic service stores.

The store building has been remodeled for J&R usage and the store will be managed by Richard E. Stickman, who will move his family from Iron Mountain to Escanaba as soon as living quarters are arranged.

The store will be equipped with the latest electronic test equipment and staffed with factory-trained graduate electric technicians with years of service experience, said Stickman. "We will stress operation as a television and radio service clinic," said Stickman "although our sales floor will be well stocked with many models of color TV, radio and stereo equipment."

Stickman had three years of banking experience before becoming associated with J&R. He was sales manager of the Iron Mountain store and is a partner in the new Escanaba branch.

"Decision to expand to Escanaba," he said "was prompted by the need for an exclusive electronic store in this area to feature factory-au-

Tax Deadline Before Council

The City Council will consider extending the tax deadline for payment of city taxes from Sept. 10 to Oct. 16 when it meets in regular session at 8 p. m. Tuesday.

The item is one of five listed for discussion by the Council according to the agenda prepared by City Manager George Harvey.

Council will also consider the resignation of Edwin Kostitzky from the Board of Heating Examiners and an appointment to fill his vacancy, a report and recommendation on opening of 2nd Ave. S., from 25th to 26th Sts., and will hear a petition requesting relocation of the Babe Ruth baseball field.

The petition on relocation of the Babe Ruth field was submitted by a group of property owners in the area, who are concerned about baseballs and the dust problem of the field. The diamond was constructed about 14 years ago and during the summer is the site of league games in the league for 13, 14 and 15 year old boys. Babe Ruth officials said the organization has no plans for moving the diamond. Council will also open bids for a truck with underbody scraper and trip blade plow and also for gravel.

Hannah Priniski Killed In Crash, 7 Others Hurt

CHEBOYGAN — Mrs. Hannah Priniski, 81, of Rte. 1, Escanaba, was killed and seven others from her family injured about 11:30 a. m. Friday in a one-car accident on I-75 about three miles south of Mackinaw City.

State Police of the Cheboygan Post said the accident happened when the car pulled out to pass a truck, went out of control and rolled over several times, coming to rest on its top in the median area of the divided freeway.

The top of the 1965-model station wagon was sheared off, police said.

The injured were all admitted to Community Memorial Hospital at Cheboygan.

The family was reported en route to Detroit.

Lemmer School Procedures Set For First Day

Students transferring to the Lemmer School for the first time this year were asked by Principal Louis Diedrich today to report to the multi-purpose room of the school on the first day of classes Tuesday to receive room assignments.

Diedrich asked students who attended Lemmer last year and are returning again this year to report to their classroom teacher of last year.

Diedrich said the procedure would be followed on the opening day of classes to allow orderly classroom assignments. The school is expecting about 575 students, including many from the old Jefferson school who will be attending Lemmer for the first time.

The grant was made under Title I of the Elementary-Secondary Education Act. Supt. Gerald Ritenburgh said the programs will start with the start of the school year. The library enrichment program is new this year and provides for the hiring of a half-day teacher to release regular teachers for an hour each day to allow them to devote more time to library work.

State To Act On Fish Rules

Changes in Michigan's special fishing regulations, recommended to take effect in 1968, are on tap for action by the State Conservation Commission when it meets in Lansing Thursday and Friday.

Among the changes is the recommended addition of 11 waters in the Upper Peninsula to the list of designated trout lakes. Such action would prohibit fishing for all species except trout during the regular trout season which extends from the last Saturday in April through the second Sunday in September. It also would provide a daily catch limit of five trout, but not to exceed 10 pounds and one trout for all waters so designated.

If the commission approves, these Upper Peninsula waters will be included among the designated trout lakes in 1968. East John, West John and Pine lakes in Alger County; Banana Lake, Schoolcraft; Marcell, Beaten and Black River lakes, Gogebic; Bennett Spring and Grass and Little Perch lakes, Luce, and Perch Lake, Marquette.

Waters which are added to the designated trout list include those which have been chemically rehabilitated and restocked with trout, newly constructed impoundments on state lands and lakes determined by field survey under current management practices to contain trout populations predominantly.

Under the heading of tighter controls, the commission will be urged to adopt new orders that would restrict spearing in some waters during certain times of the year, including the closing of Iron Lake in Iron County to spearing for muskellunge throughout the year.

In action involving an order which expires Dec. 31, the commission will be asked to make a five-year extension on a regulation which sets Michigan's statewide sturgeon spearing season for the month of February.

Labor Day Reminder

The older men who will be observing Labor Day in the Upper Peninsula next Monday can look back upon a great change in both the observance and the reason for it.

Men still living can recall the hard-won effort to give workers more of the earnings of the economy. The strike was the weapon which did more than any other to achieve this, and it was waged by courageous workers who were often regarded as radicals and trouble-makers and whose families suffered want while they tried, by shutting down the sawmill or the pulp factory, to force more sharing of profits from the enterprise in which they labored.

The nation was emerging from a period of very free and unrestrained enterprising in which very abundant natural resources were being converted into commercial products to create wealth to build our communities.

There was more active trade unionism in the early part of the century than there is now. The streetcar motormen were organized, the lathers, the shingle weavers (there was a rambunctious union!), the cigar makers, bartenders, the ore trimmers, and literally dozens of other trades.

Unionism was relatively new and it was militant and aggressive and it was apt to carry a chip of challenge because what its members had been able to gain for themselves they had often gained only with great difficulty and over years of contest.

The effort was a wholesome one, both for the workers and for the nation. It introduced a forceful control on predatory industrial management and there was some of that, just as later, when the reform pendulum swung wide, there was some predatory unionism. The demands enforced upon management taught it that it would not expire if the work day were reduced from 10 to 8 hours, or if the wage scale was raised from $1.50 to $2 a day. (When Henry Ford paid workers on the Model T lines $5 a day there was more wonder in a low paid worker than over the appearance of Halley's Comet.)

Unionism has become very strong and exercises more influence in control of government today than does industry. Government is increasingly influential in business through control of credit and through huge procurement programs, so the unions exercise strength not only through their direction relationship as the work force on industry, but also politically.

As we observe Labor Day 1967, labor's role has changed. The pioneering period is over. Unionism has matured, and leaders like Walter Reuther of the Auto Workers say that it has deteriorated because it has become "fat cat" and contented with its great gains and has lost its initial devotion to the cause of worker welfare.

Unionism has grown great by the strike and now faces an increasing public problem of strikes that hamstring the national economy. A strategically placed small number of unionists can, by striking and setting up picket lines that are respected by other unions, tie the country in knots. No such eventuality could have been conceived when the boys in denim struck the shingle mill in 1911. This should be a concern of unionism as well as of the public today, because unionism cannot remain strong if it neglects the national interest upon which it lives.

Unionism has also become so influential that it must have regard for what its actions do to the national economy. The round of wage increases at each contract expiration is a luxury which the economy has borne so far, but which may not be healthful forever.

And unionism should eventually mature to a concern about some sort of equity in the distribution of rewards for skills in American labor. Should the toughest bargainers get the biggest rewards, regardless of the skills involved?

Labor Day is a reminder of the great contribution of American labor to the nation's progress, its good character and its affluence. It is also a reminder that times change and that laborers today do not have the problems of their grandfathers, but that they, too, have problems of a new kind in a new era, along with the opportunities that abound. These problems include:

1. Fitting unionism into a complex national economy which is in turn intimately linked into a world economy.
2. Getting the apples of income without upsetting the cart of industry.
3. Making unionism good for the country as well as for the members, as it has been in the past under different conditions of a rural America with small individual enterprises.

CHANNEL 3

The Press is to be commended for the excellent coverage being given the controversy surrounding the applications for commercial use of television Channel 3 in the Escanaba area which has been filed by WFRV-TV, Green Bay.

In Mr. Curran's very fine letter appearing in Thursday's paper he did not mention that a similar application for the commercial use of Channel 3 was filed several years ago by the owners of Channel 2, Green Bay. Opposition was encountered, and for some reason the station failed to materialize. Once again an application has been filed, this time by a station proposing to serve the area with another national network than is now available fulltime to an estimated two-thirds of the television equipped homes, and once again opposition is being encountered, this time to a greater degree.

Should this one fail, who else will come forth proposing to invest a million or so dollars in such a commercial venture? Will there be another chance?

The Press on Monday carried a news story reporting the opposition of Northern Michigan University to the granting of Channel 3 as a commercial facility. On Tuesday, in response to numerous requests, I originated a series of petitions in Escanaba which will be brought to the City Council next Tuesday evening, asking that support be given to the application of WFRV-TV.

Because of the short length of time available, I am sure that many who might otherwise like to sign will not be contacted, but I believe the petitions will still accomplish the purpose of formally showing that there is strong support for the establishment of a commercial station on Channel 3 in Escanaba.

As I pointed out in a previous letter, this is actually an area concern, rather than just Escanaba, even though the actual channel is assigned to Escanaba. I have written a letter to the president of Northern Michigan University expressing my views, and I intend to write to my state representatives and to my national representatives as well.

Others who would like to take a stand, pro or con, throughout the area encompassing Escanaba, Gladstone, Marquette, Ishpeming, Negaunee, Iron Mountain, Munising and Manistique might well do likewise, that the expression of the majority may be heard.

I do not consider myself to be anti-education nor anti-television, for I demonstrated television camera equipment for various school groups long before Northern or any of the other schools in the area had any program underway. I have designed and installed distribution systems for many schools, and I think that I have worked as hard as anyone in the field to initiate interest in this medium.

My contention is that there is a special need for a first class educational system throughout the Upper Peninsula, that there is a demand and a need for a second commercial outlet in the area, and that both may be accomplished technically and economically without the need for conflict. The time for a spirit of co-operation to be shown is here. Jack Foster, Foster Electronics

BOMBS

In a recent interview, Governor Romney assailed our bombing of the railroad bridges between Red China and North Vietnam. His reasoning was that these people were primitive and traveled on motorcycles, bicycles, and walked so therefore this bombing would not bring them to the peace table.

As a veteran of WW II, it amazes me to think that our governor could even harbor this sort of reasoning after a great power such as ours could not finish off these so-called primitive people after so many years.

These bridges have been used since the beginning of the war to pour thousands of tons of war material into South Vietnam against our soldiers and their destruction was long overdue.

What these politicians seem to forget is that they are the ones who make these commitments to protect these so-called primitive countries, and they know full well when they make these commitments that it is going to take our young men on the battle field to back them up.

To withhold any support within our power for these young men including bombing of any and all targets is not only stupid but those responsible should be tried for treason, and it boils down to the fact that they should either put up or shut up.

From personal experience I would be willing to bet that if these politicians were on the receiving end of artillery shells for 10 minutes they would be far more targets bombed and fewer commitments made in the future.

Poison Blamed In Die-Off Of Carlsbad Bats

CARLSBAD, N.M. (AP)—Philip van Cleave, naturalist at Carlsbad Caverns National Park, says a high number of deaths have been noted among

He said it's impossible to tell how many bats have died because of the fluctuation in population and the number of migrant bats which come into the caverns.

As to cause, he said, "it's a wide open question" but "it points to some sort of poisoning."

Why the interest in bats? They're tourist attractions, van Cleave said.

West's weak jump overall put a lot of pressure on North. Of course North did not have to act over it but he was looking at two aces and four cards in his partner's suit and just did not like to be shut out of the bidding.

South could not tell how weak North was and was interested in getting to a grand slam. His four no-trump bid found out that North held both missing aces but when North showed no kings in response to the five no-trump follow up South settled for a small slam.

South's hand was so strong that the slam was a very good one. Put the king of clubs in the West hand and South would make his slam easily. As you can see the king of clubs showed up in the East hand but South still had no trouble bringing in 12 tricks. The red suit holding was such that South had an automatic heart-diamond squeeze against West after the club finesse went wrong.

The key cards were dummy's nine of hearts and ten of diamonds. The ten of diamonds made it impossible for East to break up the squeeze by leading a diamond after taking his king of clubs and the nine of hearts forced West to unguard his king of diamonds at the twelfth trick.

The first three tricks went to South's ace of hearts and ace-king of spades. The fourth trick went to East's king of clubs. East returned a heart.

South ruffed, ran off the rest of his clubs and trumps, and watched poor West squirm. West had to throw his last low diamond on the last spade, whereupon the nine of hearts was thrown from dummy's ace picked up the king and the queen of diamonds made the last trick in South's hand.

Answer Monday

The first atomic icebreaker, Russia's "Lenin," has been battling Arctic ice five years. The 440-foot powerhouse roams the polar seas all winter without refueling. Its nuclear engine generates enough steam to melt extra-thick ice.

The school, the college and the city would all like a swimming pool, for their use, and the recreation of all concerned. Why not a little cooperation on this line?

Certainly, we all like beautiful buildings—but why in this country of ice and snow for at least five months of the year—and heat in our buildings for almost another five months, can't a two or three or even a four-story building be beautiful, and much more practical. I am not an architect, an engineer, or an accountant, but we all know that heat goes up and why not up to that second, third or even fourth floor, instead of up to the ceiling and out into the cold air to warm that a little.

We expect entire nations to get along and live in peace for the good of all. But here in a small community, the schools, college, city, county and state can't even get together, be a little bit practical and be willing to help each other out to attain the goals they all want to reach.

Ear-Piercing Is No Stunt For Amateur

Dear Ann Landers: I work for a large insurance company. Our department is called "The Fun And Games Department", because most of the secretaries and stenographers are between 19 and 25.

The girl I am writing about is 20. She spends her lunch hours piercing ears. This self-styled surgeon carries her "tools" in her purse—needles, alcohol, catgut and a magnifying glass. She performs the surgery in the ladies' room. Already she has pierced 20 sets of ears in our department and has made appointments in other departments.

I am not mad because the girl is making a small fortune on the side, but it seems to me that if she is going to perform illegal operations she should do it at home on her own time. What do you say?—NO HOLES IN MY HEAD

Dear No: Ear-piercing should be done by a physician in his office, and not by an amateur in a ladies' room or even in her own home. It sounds as if the amateur surgeon has been lucky so far, but one of these days she may run into real trouble and then she'll wish she had stuck to her shorthair.

Dear Ann Landers: I have an invalid mother who needs a great deal of attention. I am a professional woman and have engaged a nurse to care for Mother during the day. A practical nurse comes in at 4:00 P. M. and stays until I get home at 6:30. When I want to go out for the evening I must hire another nurse. The woman isn't always available and Mother is hard to get along with and won't stay with just anybody.

My fiancée refuses to stay home with me and Mother more than two evenings a week. He enjoys the theater, concerts and boating, and likes to dine out on weekends. I think he is unreasonable. Should I return his ring?—ALICE

Dear Alice: I'm surprised he hasn't asked for it. Don't let your mother tyrannize you forever. Line up some competent sitters and tell Mother she'll have to get along with them. One of these days she will be gone and if you don't solve your problems by then, you'll have to hire someone to sit with YOU, Sister.

Dear Ann Landers: Please tell me what to do about a friend who calls me on the phone and ties me up for as long as an hour and a half at a time. She has told me so many interminable stories about her relatives, her neighbors, her church friends and everyone she knows that my head is about to burst.

I know the poor girl has troubles, but, good Lord, who hasn't? I sometimes think she calls others and does the same thing because she has repeated herself so many times it's obvious she doesn't know to whom she has said what.

Please don't tell me I am performing a useful service, Ann. What I need is advice on how to get her to leave me alone without hurting her feelings. I'm afraid I will crack up every time I pick up the phone and hear her voice. What's the answer?—YACK-ETY-YACKED TO DEATH

Dear Yackety: The next time she calls tell her you can talk (what you mean, of course, is listen) for five minutes then you must leave. At the end of five minutes say, "really, I must go now." Then go. There is no need to give an explanation as to why you can't spend more time on the phone. If you do this three or four times, she'll get the idea.

Is alcoholism a disease? How can the alcoholic be treated? Is there a cure? Read the booklet, "Alcoholism—Hope and Help," by Ann Landers. Enclose 35c in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped and self-addressed envelope.

State Road Jobs In U.P. Are Struck

State highway construction projects in the Upper Peninsula starting closing down Friday noon and none are expected to be operating next Tuesday when work generally resumes in industry because of a strike that affects up to 10,000 state workers that could upset 1968 and 1969 completion schedules in highway work if prolonged.

The strike is by the International Union of Operating Engineers, Local 324 in the Upper Peninsula, the laborers Union, the Cement Finishers and Bricklayers Union and five district councils of the Carpenters Union, five unions in all, against the Labor Relations Division of the Michigan Road Builders Association.

As the men began leaving the jobs in the Upper Peninsula on Friday the situation was confused, William Morrow of Escanaba, business agent of Local 324 in the U. P. said that the Operating Engineers have 500 to 600 men employed on state jobs in the U. P. and that he didn't know how many of them had left work on Friday, but that none of the strikes were "banned," that is, no picketing was set up to request other unions to leave work, too.

Gradual Closing

Earl Destrange of Teamsters Local 328 in the Upper Peninsula said that in a trip eastward in the U. P. from Ironwood Friday he found Teamsters at work on the state projects. The teamsters have several hundred of their members on U. P. highway construction projects.

Works affected in this area include the reconstruction of the Whitefish River Bridge by Caspian Construction Co. at Rapid River and a Payne & Dolan blacktopping project for Brumm Construction Co. at Northern Michigan University. Morrow said that it was his first strike with the road builders in 30 years in the Upper Peninsula. Contracts expired Sept. 1 and negotiations for a new contract hadn't reached agreement after months of negotiations.

Both the Operating and Engineers and Teamsters are asking higher pay scales, more benefits and elimination of the zoned pay scale in the state. Old hourly rate of Operating Engineers was $4.16 in the Upper Peninsula and $4.34 in Detroit. It costs more to live in the U. P. than in Detroit and the construction season is shorter here, so there should be no differential, the unions maintain.

Contractors' Offer

The road builders had offered the Operating Engineers a boost of $1.80 an hour spread over three years, but the union was demanding $1 more an hour the first year and 60 cents in each of the following years, plus 10 cents an hour more employer contributions to the union's pension and health insurance funds.

The Teamsters present U. P. hourly rate on single axle equipment is $3.59 an hour in the Upper Peninsula and $3.69 on tandems or semis. The union did not detail its demands, but said that higher wages, end of zoning and more fringes were sought in a complete working agreement package.

Shutdown Tuesday

There would be no work on the projects normally today or Monday because of weekend traffic and the holiday, but prospect today was for a complete complete shutdown of the state highway construction projects next Tuesday. The Operating Engineers' walkout on 400 road building projects in Michigan was reaching the point of "total paralysis" today, the State Highway Department reported.

Major projects tied up included 38.5 miles on I 69 from Marshall to the Indiana border, 4.5 miles of the Fisher Expressway in Detroit and 25 miles on I 75 between Bay City and Standish.

The Teamsters have a bargaining meeting with the contractors scheduled for 10 a. m. Sept. 6 in Detroit.

Development Corp. Planned For U.P.

A step forward in the effort to give national appeal to Upper Michigan's tourist attractions was made Thursday when a committee representative of the cooperating agencies in the Peninsula voted to make itself a permanent organization, to engage a firm to give an economic rating to some of the major tourist attractions visualized for the Peninsula and to seek funds for an Upper Peninsula-wide development that eventually would see a series of major attractions built in historical and scenic backgrounds.

The committee met at the Northwoods Supper Club in Marquette. It was stressed that this is not another survey, but the implementation of guidelines set forth by a two-year study made primarily under the direction of Michigan State University.

"The organization, however, will not be bound by the specifics of guideline language," spokesman said. The report will be what it is called, a guideline for future development of the Peninsula.

"There will be no general survey. That has already been done. There are, however, three or four major programs suggested, and it will be the task of an engineering firm to give the new organization a feasibility study so that priorities can be established."

The committee contemplates the formation of a Peninsula-wide development corporation, with some original funds to come from the area, but with federal and state funds later playing a major part in the financing of public facilities.

The committee members were named to represent the Upper Michigan Tourist Association, FORUM, UPCAP, Operation Action and Michigan State University, which published the guidelines. They are Lawrence Rubin, St. Ignace, chairman; Jack English, Wakefield; Win Schuler, Marshall; Father Louis Cappel, Houghton; W. H. Treloar, Ray Gummerson, William Wilson and James Gooch, all of Marquette; Lee Meyers, Escanaba; Jack DellAngelo, Ishpeming, and Arne Ervast, Chassell. Gummerson was named secretary. On the executive committee will be Rubin, Gummerson, Schuler, Father Cappel, DellAngelo and Treloar.

The committee will first name an engineering firm for the study, and if feasibility is confirmed, the next move will be toward formation of a development corporation, either a private non-profit or a public benefit corporation.

Ann Landers

After Seven Years, You Should Regret

Dear Ann Landers: I just read the letter from the woman who was angry because her mother-in-law kept nagging her to "try" for a girl. I am 15 years old and my mother had the same problem — five sons and no daughters. It wasn't her mother-in-law who nagged her, it was my father. My mother didn't mind, though. She took a chance at the age of 49 and here I am — a girl!

I am sure if I had been a boy she would have loved me just as much, but needless to say she was thrilled. My father was the happiest man in Michigan.

Please print my letter for all women who can't make up their minds. This letter might help them decide. — DOLLY

Dear Dolly: At 49 your mother wasn't taking much of a chance, honey. The world's record for having a baby late in life is 53, and there's some doubt about the authenticity of the lady's birth certificate. But your mother must be quite a woman — one for the books, you might say. My hat is off to her.

Dear Ann Landers: We are having a little trouble with our five-year-old daughter. She has always been friendly and affectionate. This is a good trait, we feel, but lately she has been overdoing it. She hangs on people, climbs on their laps, pats their faces and kisses them.

Last night we had guests. The child climbed on the lap of a woman she had never seen before — and said, "You are so pretty I love you." At that point I asked her to get off the woman's lap. The woman said, "Oh, she isn't bothering me. Let her stay."

Why does my daughter behave this way and how can I break her of the habit when I don't get the cooperation of guests? I need your help, Ann. I am not handling this problem well and I know it. — FALLING SHORT

Dear F.S. First you must learn why your child feels the need to climb on people and kiss strangers. Usually such

The bride selected for her wedding a floor length gown of Japanese silk featuring a bouffant skirt, scoop neckline and long Chantilly lace sleeves. Detailing the gown were double matching trains appliqued with lace motifs.

A crown of crystals and pearls held her silk illusion veil and she carried a single white orchid surrounded by white carnations atop a white prayer book.

Maid of honor was Darlene Anderson of Perkins and bridesmaids were Sharon Depuydt of Perkins, Karen Smith, Perkins and Linnea McMains of Detroit.

Candy Mosier of Rapid River was the flower girl and in the role of ringbearer was Scott Neurohr of Perkins, a nephew of the bridegroom.

Alan Depuydt of Perkins was bestman for his brother and groomsmen were Mark Depuydt, Robert Palk and Brian Depuydt, all of Perkins.

Cage Gown — The bride attendants wore floor length cage gowns of green organza over taffeta with short sleeves and applied daisies on the skirt and sleeves. Matching daisy headpieces completed their attire and they carried daisy bouquets.

For attending her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Smith wore a three piece ensemble of pink and beige satin brocade with beige accessories. Mrs. Depuydt chose a bright blue dress with black patent accessories.

The wedding reception was held during the afternoon and evening at the Dutch Mill at Rapid River. The couple left later on a honeymoon trip to an undisclosed destination. The newlyweds will reside in Perkins.

The bride is a 1967 graduate of Perkins High School. Mr. Depuydt graduated in 1966 from Perkins High School and he attended Bay de Noc College last year. He is presently employed at Harnischfeger Corp.

Oswald: "Here is a bride hand for the department of utter confusion. The participants were Ted Lightner and Mike Gottlieb. The game was rubber bridge. The locale, Crockett's Club in New York which ceased to exist more than 30 years ago."

Jim: "They were two of the 10 best players in the world at that time, weren't they?"

Oswald: "They were and they are still pretty good. Mike was also a very fast player. He looked over dummy. Remarkable. 'Something must have gone wrong.' Then he took dummy's ace of spades. Led a trump and finessed his ten spot. Finessed the club queen successfully. Led another trump and covered East's jack with his queen. Drew the last trump. Led a club to dummy's ace. Ruffed another club to set up two clubs for discards. Went back to dummy with the king of hearts. Discarded two spades on those good clubs. Led a heart. Finessed his jack. Made the 12th trick with the ace of hearts and the 13th with dummy's last trump."

Jim: "Four successful finesses and two suit breaks. Just a laydown. I thought Lightner was a conservative. Where did he dig up that three diamond bid?"

Oswald: "That's just what Mike asked him. It seems Lightner thought that Mike had bid two diamonds. There was certainly no reason why he shouldn't raise from two to three."

Jim: "That explains it. Each man thought his partner had jumped the bidding. Even then, wasn't Mike's bid a trifle strong?"

Oswald: "I guess so but Mike always was an overbidder. He also could play the dummy well enough to justify slight overbids."

A—Bid two no-trump. If there is a game anywhere, it should be in no-trump. This is a tough one because either a pass or a two club bid might be a better action.

Instead of rebidding one no-trump, your partner bids two clubs. What do you do now?

Take The Labor From Labor Day — Served with a sauce of sour cream and chives. Corn needs no embellishment when it is served piping hot with loads of melted butter and salt.

Take The Labor From Labor Day

By The Associated Press
Start with an easy menu. Have plenty of food on hand. Encourage family and guests to help cook and serve the food and clean up.

There you have the formula for a weekend party that's painless for the cook whether the gathering is indoors or out.

For a simple and popular menu offer corn on the cob, stuffed hamburgers and rolls and whole tomatoes. For dessert, watermelon and cookies or candy to munch.

First, the corn. You might like to try cooking corn with the inner husks attached. To do so, remove the tough outer green husks, leaving the inner husks back over the corn and bind with strips of husk or string. Place corn in a pot. Pour in enough boiling water to cover corn; add a little sugar. Boil about 5 minutes for more mature corn. Serve hot with lots of butter and, if you go for it, coarse salt.

Now for the hamburgers. Try them stuffed. Divide each pound of hamburger meat into eight portions; flatten them well. Arrange the stuffing over four of the patties; cover with the remaining four. Press the edges together, with your fingers so that the stuffing doesn't leak out. Here are six suggestions for stuffing: chances are you'll want to try some of these and then experiment on your own.

Mushrooms. A 3-ounce can of whole mushrooms will do for 1 pound of ground hamburger; just use 2 whole mushrooms for each patty.

Dry onion soup mix. Sprinkle a teaspoon of the mix, just as it comes out of the envelope or can, over each patty.

Cheese. Grated cheddar cheese, crumbled blue cheese or a thin slice of Swiss cheese makes a savory stuffing for hamburger.

Sliced water chestnuts. Team them with chopped chutney and crumbled, crisply cooked and drained bacon.

Anchovies. For each hamburger use 1 anchovy fillet (cut in half), 1/4 teaspoon of drained capers and 2 teaspoons of grated Parmesan cheese.

Mustard pickles or pickle relish. Use about 2 teaspoons of the chopped pickle or relish for each patty.

Local Medical Auxiliary Honors State Officers

The Delta-Schoolcraft Medical Society Auxiliary held a special dinner meeting Thursday evening in the Heritage Room of the House of Ludington to honor the officers of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Michigan State Medical Society.

Honored guests present were: Mrs. Henry Scovill, president, of Ypsilanti; Mrs. William G. Gamble, president-elect, of Bay City; Mrs. Earl E. Weston, first vice-president, of Birmingham; and Mrs. Edward S. Maxim, finance chairman, St. Clair Shores. Mrs. Theodore Bash, president of the local medical auxiliary, presided.

Mrs. Scovill announced the workshops to be held at the forthcoming annual meeting scheduled for Sept. 26-28 at the Pantlind Hotel in Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Gamble commented on the existing need of home-centered health care services in many communities throughout the state. She urged that after an appraisal of community needs has been made, such services as homemaker services, volunteer friendly visitor training and meals on wheels be initiated in the local area.

Hostess for the evening were Mrs. Roland E. Berry, Mrs. Raymond Hockstad and Mrs. Donald Fitch.

Freshman Dan Scheuren, former Escanaba griddier, came in for high praise from Coach Rollie Dotsch at Northern Michigan University this week. . . . Scheuren is a 6 foot 2 inch, 235 pound defensive lineman. . . . "He's a hard worker and displays tremendous desire," Dotsch stated. . . . "I'm not sure if he will travel for our opening game at Northern Iowa, but if we were leaving tomorrow he'd be on the squad," Dotsch said. . . . Dotsch also noted that Bob Briceo, freshman halfback from Holy Name, is an outstanding prospect.

The Ontonagon football team started the 1967 season Friday night against L'Anse without a name. . . . The recently consolidated school adopted new Maroon and White colors but has not yet selected a nickname for its athletic teams. . . . They were formerly known as the Polar Bears.

He was the leading ground gainer in the Menominee Range Conference with 439 yards.

Six Veterans Will Start In Wildcat Offense Line

MARQUETTE—Veterans will man six of the seven starting positions in Northern Michigan's offensive line when the Wildcats open the season Saturday night, Sept. 9, against the University of Northern Iowa.

Wildcat head coach Rollie Dotsch, however, is concerned over the status of a seventh veteran, center tackle Ron Kerr, a senior from Peabody, Mass., currently out of action while recovering from a knee injury.

"Kerr missed spring practice because of an operation," Dotsch said. "But the knee is not responding and right now his status is questionable. We should know by next week if Ron will be available at all this season."

Soph Gets Job

With Kerr unavailable, new-comer Dick Ambrosino, a sophomore from Oak Park, Ill., who took over the centering chores last spring, continues to work as the number one center.

The guard spots apparently belong to a pair of junior lettermen, Jim Meyer, of Milwaukee, and Dan Flynn, of Wheaton, Ill. Meyer lettered at tackle last season and Flynn was a swing man, filling in at both guard spots in '66.

The swing guard this fall will be Don Wagner, a junior letterman from Milwaukee, who will also serve as a back-up man to Ambrosino at center.

"We've moved Wagner from center to linebacker to guard," quipped Dotsch. "We're starting to call him the Tony Kubek of NMU."

Bill Bailey, a sophomore letterman from Kingsford, is also working at center, while two first year men, Jerry Drazkowski, of Bessemer, and Tim Furrno, of Meadville, Pa., are getting a long look at the guard spots.

Two Upper Peninsula grid-diers, senior co-captain Dennis Porter, of Sault Ste. Marie, and junior Gerry Lutri, of Stephenson, are at the offensive tackles. Lutri has been switched from

Red Wings Have Slim Advantage In Torrid Race

By The Associated Press
Rochester trails Richmond by a half-game in the pulsating International League pennant race, but the Red Wings seem to have one pivotal advantage as the season heads into its last three days.

Both teams will play at home tonight, Sunday and Monday. Richmond has three games left, Rochester four. So the flag race could be a tie.

Richmond, however, must tangle with third-place Toledo, a club the Braves have found it tough to beat all season, while Rochester will be encountering its very cousin, seventh-place Buffalo.

You won't find Rochester Manager Earl Weaver asking if Buffalo is still in the league, but Rochester has won 12 of 16 games between the teams. By contrast, Richmond is 10-7 against late-blooming Toledo.

Richmond, seeking its first IL flag, nosed out Columbus 2-1 Friday night but lost a half-game off its lead all the same when the Red Wings swept two at Buffalo 8-1, 7-0.

ISHPEMING — They flashed the green light for Manistique football Wednesday and Friday night the Emeralds took off in a cloud of dust to trample Ishpeming, 34-14, in a Great Lakes Conference opener.

Manistique's pre-season football picture was a dismal one, with school officials, players, coaches and fans uncertain whether the sport would be retained this year or not.

But when the decision was made to continue the gridiron program, Coach Rick Larson's charges left no doubt as to the bright future ahead in the current campaign.

The Emeralds spoiled the Ishpeming coaching debut of Bob Wills, ex-Hematite athletic great, with an impressive mixture of air and ground attack.

Roberts Scores Three
Halfback Larry Roberts took care of the running chores by reeling off 102 yards in 22 trips, scoring three touchdowns and a pair of extra points.

Bob Cowman, veteran quarterback, found the range with nine passes good for 186 yards and two touchdowns. Cowman connected on 9 of 21 aerials but his receivers dropped several on-target tosses.

Ishpeming was the first to get on the scoreboard, scoring a safety by recovering a Manistique fumble early in the game.

The bobble came on a bad pass from center in a punting situation.

The Emeralds straightened out their game in the second quarter and hit paydirt twice. With 5:18 remaining, Roberts belted over from the two yard line and Cowman tossed to end Gary Sample for the extra point. Sample, handicapped by a sprained ankle, saw limited action in the first half.

Take 13-2 Lead

The initial Manistique TD was set up by a long sweep from halfback Terry Popour.

Minutes later Roberts cut loose on a double reverse for 35 yards. Cowman found Sample for 15 yards and Roberts churned over tackle for three yards and his second touchdown to make it 13-2.

Ishpeming cut its deficit to 13-8 with Mike Hibein scoring on a short plunge.

Manistique staged a sustained drive to take complete control of the contest. With Roberts carrying 10 of 13 plays, the Emeralds punched downfield to the seven from where Roberts logged it over. He also ran the point to make it 20-8.

Popour gathered in a Cowman aerial with 4:51 remaining in the game and Mike Tuffnell crashed for the extra point as Manistique spread its margin to 27-8.

49 Yard TD Pass

Cowman and Ole Sholander then hooked up for a spectacular 49 yard aerial touchdown and Roberts scooted for the extra point to shoot the Emeralds into a commanding 34-8 lead.

Ishpeming scored a consolation touchdown against the Manistique reserves with Tom Hammer passing to Mike Nelson with two seconds left in the game.

Manistique picked up 345 yards running and passing to 211 for the Hematites. The Emeralds had a 15-9 bulge in first downs.

One of the defensive stand-outs for Manistique was Jesse Schnurer who recovered two Ishpeming fumbles.

Manistique will return to action in another Great Lakes Conference clash at home Friday night against the Soo Blue Devils.

COURT DECISIONS don't seem to bother basketball star Rick Barry and his son Rick Jr. A Superior Court judge in San Francisco has ruled that Barry must play for the Warriors next year. Rick had jumped to the Oakland team of the new American Basketball Association. Barry was the leading scorer in the NBA last season.

Fenway Park Opens Arms To Harrelson

By The Associated Press

Fenway Park has opened its arms again to Ken Harrelson and the Boston Red Sox. Minnesota's Municipal Stadium has turned a cold shoulder on Ed Mathews and the Detroit Tigers.

Harrelson and Mathews, prize late-season pickups for the Red Sox and Tigers, respectively, found themselves in the thick of the American League pennant scramble Friday night—with different results.

Harrelson, signed by Boston last week after being dropped by Kansas City, drove in four runs with a homer, triple and double as the Red Sox emerged from a hitting slump, pounded Chicago 10-2 and clung to first place.

Mathews, acquired by Detroit in an inter-league trade with Houston last month, committed two first-inning errors as the Tigers fumbled away a 5-4 decision to the second place Twins at Minnesota.

The Red Sox still lead the Twins by one half-game while third place Detroit is two games behind and the fourth-place White Sox trail by 2½.

California rallied for two runs in the ninth inning and a 4-3 triumph over Cleveland, the New York Yankees edged Washington 2-1 in 11 innings on Mike Hegan's first major league homer and Baltimore shaded Kansas City 2-1 in other AL games.

In the National League, San Francisco outlasted Cincinnati 14-1 in 21 innings. St. Louis banked Houston 5-0, Pittsburgh shut out Philadelphia 3-0, Los Angeles topped Atlanta 6-4 and New York divided a doubleheader with Chicago, the Mets taking the nightcap 3-0 after the Cubs won the opener 8-2.

Dearborn dropped the first game to Cleveland 11-5, but Kalamazoo nudged past Louisville, Ky., 3-2 in the second and Battle Creek won handily over Waterloo, Ind., 7-4 in the third.

The double-elimination tournament continues in Battle Creek through Labor Day. In second-round games today, Waterloo meets Dearborn, Kalamazoo takes on Akron, Ohio, and Battle Creek goes against Cleveland.

The Stan Musial World Series will follow in Battle Creek starting next Thursday.

In Friday's action, Dearborn held Cleveland to one hit in the first five innings. Then Cleveland broke loose and scored 10 runs in the next three innings, running away with the game.

Louisville pitcher Jim Helm gave up only three hits, but Kalamazoo scored anyway on one hit, a fielder's choice walk and three errors. Even with 10 hits, Louisville managed to score twice.

An 11-hit attack, including two home runs, gave Battle Creek its victory over Waterloo. Skelton, who pitched for Battle Creek, allowed only three hits, and all of Waterloo's runs were scored on errors.

"I always did like to hit in this park," Harrelson said after leading Boston's 13-hit assault with a two-run triple in the first inning, a bases-empty homer in the fifth and a run-producing double in the seventh.

"I drove in five runs in one game a couple of years ago, and I had a couple of good days here with the Athletics earlier this season."

The Red Sox, who had managed just two hits in Thursday night's 4-2 loss to Chicago, battered White Sox ace Gary Peters for seven runs in the first two innings and breezed the rest of the way behind the strong pitching of Jose Santiago.

Mathews, who has driven in eight runs in 13 games with the Tigers, made a two-base throwing error on Harmon Killebrew's grounder in the first inning at Minnesota, then slipping on the slick infield after fielding Cesar Tovar's bouncer and was unable to make the play.

Hegan, a .146 hitter, belted his game-winning homer off Washington reliever Dick Lines with two out in the 12th. Left-hander Fritz Peterson limited the Senators to four hits on the way to his sixth victory in 19 decisions.

Curt Blefary lashed a run-scoring single in the ninth inning to lift the Orioles past Kansas City. Pete Richert blanked the A's after the first inning, when they scored without benefit of a hit.

Michigan Teams Post Victories

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Michigan teams did better each game they played Friday in the first round of the adult Stan Musial East Central Regional Amateur Baseball Tournament.

Dearborn dropped the first game to Cleveland 11-5, but Kalamazoo nudged past Louisville, Ky., 3-2 in the second and Battle Creek won handily over Waterloo, Ind., 7-4 in the third.

Errors Prove Costly As Tigers Drop Two Games Behind Leader

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — The Detroit Tigers acquired Eddie Mathews for his bat, and figured his glove would take care of itself.

In 13 games with the Tigers, Mathews' bat has driven in eight runs. It produced one Friday night.

The trouble is, Mathews committed two errors Friday night to give Minnesota a pair of unearned runs in the first inning, and the Twins went on to nip the Tigers 5-4.

It was the second straight game in which defensive lapses have sent the Tigers reeling to defeat.

Besides Mathews' two errors, Willie Horton and Jim Price also had boots which contributed to a third unearned run for Minnesota.

"You can't give away three runs and expect to win too many games in a race like this," Tiger Manager Mayo Smith said.

The loss dropped the Tigers two games behind first-place Boston, while the Twins stayed a half-game back in the tight American League race.

Mathews is an old pro who does not alibi errors. But he had a legitimate reason for his second error in the first inning.

On the first, he made a nice fielding play close to the bag, then threw the ball past first base. On the second, he slipped in the watered-down infield after ranging to his left to field a grounder. Both miscues allowed runs to score.

"I just threw the first one away," said Mathews. "It was pretty wet at the spot where I slipped on the second one."

The field had just been sprinkled after an oldtimers game preceding the Twins-Tigers contest.

For the Twins, it was their 30th one-run victory in 52 such close games.

"I don't know why we're winning the close games; I just hope we keep it up," Twins' Manager Cal Ermer said. "The experience of being in a pennant race before may help us."

Commenting on the Twins' benefitting from the shaky Tiger fielding, Ermer added, "We just wanted to get as many runs as we could, as early as we could. And we don't care how we get them."

With the help of the Tiger defensive lapses, the Twins handed Jim Kaat leads of 3-0 and 5-2 in the first three innings. Kaat held on to win with a seven-hit effort, although being tagged for a ninth-inning solo home run by Bill Freehan that made it close at the end. It was Kaat's 10th victory against 13 defeats.

Attend the Church of Your Choice

THE CHURCH FOR ALL — ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE STEEPLEJACK

Look closely . . . in this picture a man is risking his life!

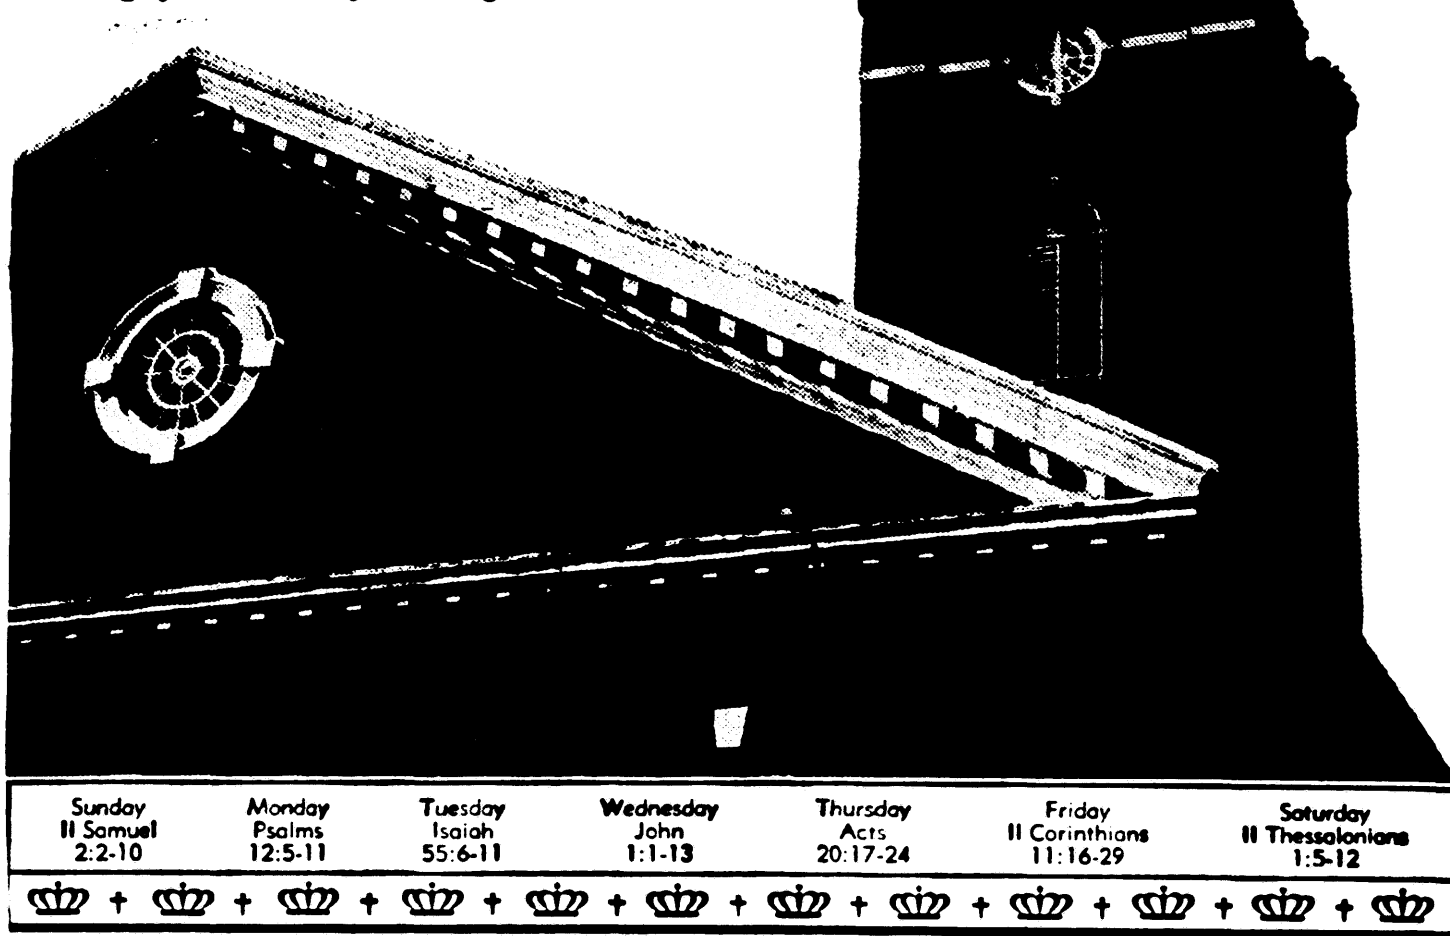

An old and respected trade is his. It had its beginning centuries ago when Christianity first began to express its devotion in unique forms of architecture. How could Christians proclaim constantly their faith in Christ? How could they lift the eyes of others to behold the Lord of Life?

Soon, over gabled village roofs rose gleaming spires. And men who tilled the fields, and men who trod the lanes, rejoiced to behold the symbol of Faith.

Then one day cities replaced villages . . . skyscrapers dwarfed the spires of God. And so, on the day this picture was taken, ten thousand people passed by and never raised their eyes. Only a few looked upward and thought in mild surprise, "Why, isn't that a man way up there on the steeple?"

Yes, A MAN. One of hundreds of millions whose skill and courage continue to be needed as the Church fulfills its mission.

Maybe your church doesn't have a steeple. But it has a task to challenge your skills . . . your courage.
